BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 22, 1894.

Woman's Love.

"They love too much that die for love,"—Proverb.

"In the little rose-wood casket, Which is resting on the stand, There's a package of old letters Preened by a cherished hand.
Will you go and bring them sister, Read them o'er to me to-night?
I have often tried but could not For the tears that dim my sight."

Come up closer to me, sister; Let me lean upon your breast,
For the tide of life is ebbing,
And I fear would be at rest.
Read the letters he has written;
He whose voice I've often heard, Read them over love distinctly,
That I lose not even a word.

Tell him sister when you see him That I never ceased to love;
That I dying prayed to meet him In a better world above.
Tell him that I never upbraided, Ne'er a word of censure spoke, Though his silence and his absence, My heart had well nigh broke.

Tell him that I watched his coming,
When the moon tide sun was high;
And when at eve the angels Lit their star-light in the sky.
And when I saw he came not,
Tell him that I did not chide, But that I ever loved him,
That I blessed him when I died.

When in the grave's white garment, You have wrapped my form around;
And have laid me down to slumber,
In the quiet church-yard ground, Place the pictures and the letters, Close against my pulseless heart;
We for years have been together,
And in death we may not part.

I am ready now dear sister,
You may read the letters o'er;
I will listen to the words of him, Who I ne'er shall see no more;
And ere you shall have finished, Should I calmly fall asleep, Fall asleep in death and wake not,
Sister sister, do not weep.

St Stephensport, Ky.
Suggestion—Cloverport, hush, that whining about love, "lest a like fate befall thee."

Nothing Strange

Intelligent people, who realize the important part the blood holds in keeping the body in a normal condition, find nothing strange in the number of diseases Hood's Sarsaparilla is able to cure. So many troubles result from impure blood, the best way to treat them is through the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla vitalizes the blood.

Hood's PILLS are the best after-dinner pills, assist digestion, prevent constipation.

TOBINSPOORT.

Tobinspoort comes again.
Messrs. Chas. and Alex. Ahi are here from Illinois.

Mrs. Blanche Shaw, of Louisville, is visiting here.

Charley Lonesch is quite sick with fever at this writing.

J. D. Brasher and family, of Buck Run, are visiting here this week.

Quite a lot of young folks attended the barbecue at Addison last Saturday.

The storm some two weeks ago did a right smart of damage to some forward corn.

Miss Zella Simons it is said will take a course in music at Louisville in the near future.

Watermelon time has come again and brought with it an abundance of the delicious fruit.

The Methodist church is under going repairs with a new stand and some other additions.

Miss Nannie Taylor returned home last Friday from a visit to her uncle, Bayard Taylor at Cheshire.

Rev. McLaughlin, of Franklin, Ind., preached at the M. E. church Sunday and Sunday night.

Miss Kate Weatherholt, Marlin Cockrell and Jim England have recently purchased new pianos.

The prohibitionists are holding meetings in different parts of the county in the interest of their party.

El Leaf and family with a host of others have returned from Illinois to make this their future home.

Miss Vina Clark, of Owensboro, who has been visiting relative here, returned home last Saturday accompanied by Mrs.
Wood Weatherholt.

C. P. Polk and daughter, Etta, and Miss Jack Polk attended the Blackford Association near Polville last week and report a large crowd in attendance.

Owing to the failure in the apple crop, it is said that Cass Whitehead has fled to the mountains to buy chestnuts for the firm which he has served so long.

Mrs. Mary Royal will teach the advanced room in our school again this winter, and Henry Lamb will take charge of the "baby" department as usual.

Gardner Agnew and Jim England takes advantage of the low water in the Ohio and ferry their horses by swimming them. Go away with your steam ferry now Mr. Till.

F. M. Leaf, candidate for Assessor, has a young cow that "he says," gives seven gallons of milk a day. "Fifty" good, France, I think she will yet reach the highest record made.

Miss Druzel Payne, of Cannelton, came up last Friday and it is thought that some of the widowers and bachelors are having pains in the region of their heart since she came.

Politics is very quiet in this county now, but wait till the weather is a little cooler, and you will see the candidates lumber out from their hiding places like rats from a burning barn.

SIROCCO.

Jim Arnold and Will Osborne are stumping the county in the interest of the Third Party.

Mr. Jim Brown and son, Lem, of Rockport, are visiting Mr. Brown's brother, Mr. Marshall Brown.

Rev. Duncan, colored, of the Baptist persuasion, hailing from Hardinsburg, is holding a meeting at Prospect Hill.

Miss Emma Withers, of Middlesboro, and Miss Bettie Hamilton, of near Brandenburg, visited Mrs. Nancy Haynes the 9th inst.

Jimmie Cain fell from the roof of Mrs.
Joe Woolfolk's new barn last week.
He is getting along very well at this writing.

Prof. Courtney, of Falmouth, Ky., delivered an interesting address on the subject of education at Oak Grove school house Tuesday night the 7th inst. He with Prof. D. S. Roberts, of Ekron, are endeavoring to establish a college in which all branches will be taught for less money, taking the cheapness of board into consideration, than any college yet advertised. Ekron is the place where they expect to establish this school.

Mrs. Julia Morgan, nee Simmons, after months of patient suffering, succumbed to the dread life destroyer, typhoid fever at 4 o'clock, Tuesday morning, the 7th.
Her remains were interred in New Highland cemetery the following evening, followed to the grave by a large concourse of friends. It is sad to be with death in any of its phases and painfully sad to see one cut down in the bloom of manhood or womanhood—severed from the pleasures of this world ere life has been a cross—rushed into the silent halls of death—face to face with the inevitable ere we are ready to say "not my will, but thine be done." We extend our heart-felt sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

"Day after day we think what she is doing in those bright realms of air, Year after year, her tender steps pursuing,
Behold her grown more fair.
Thus do we walk with her and keep unbroken, The bond which nature gives, Thinking that our remembrance, though unspoken, May reach her where she lives."

Rev. William Cooley, who has for 30 years expounded doctrinal theology from the Methodist pulpit has succumbed to the Baptist faith: He severed his connection with the M. E. church South, Sunday morning the 5th inst., at Cold Spring, it being Rev. L. C. Argabright's regular meeting there, by relating an experience derogating modern sanctificationists or second-blessingists in no measured terms and going down into the clear, rippling water of the Ohio at Richardson's Landing at 4 o'clock p. m. and being immersed by Rev. Argabright who it seems had been baptised into the Methodist church some years ago by Rev. Cooley and afterwards embraced the Baptist doctrine. Rev. Cooley claims to have been forced from the fold of which he had become a member in his infancy by harsh treatment from latter-day sanctificationists, (or "second-bless-ingist" is the term he seems more pleased to use,) but as much has been said through the columns of the News in regard to "later-day saints," I'll refrain from indulging his experience in full, suffice to say he handled 'em without gloves and caused the tears to trickle down Sirocco's face like rain drops vanishing from the roof of a house.

They had a call meeting Sunday at Cold Spring for the purpose of attending to business regarding ordination. Messengers were appointed to visit other churches and Tuesday after the second Sunday in September was set for the time to administer the rights of ordination at Cold Spring. Those who are desireous of seeing how preachers are made will have a chance to gratify their curiosity.

Rev. Cooley said that from the time he "went down into the liquid depth until he was resurrected therefrom, his wife was a widow." She didn't have time to put on mourning before the old man was breathing the vital air again, didn't have time to realize the loneliness of widowhood until she and the old man were walking the paths of life again together, separated only by a creed—a souse—a "back-slide" into the Ohio river, see?

Rev. Argabright said at church that night that for about 4 hours during that day Brother Cooley was not a preacher." Guess the old gentleman thought he was "in it" when Brother Argabright sussed him under the water.

Wasn't Sirocco's Floating Opera immense? We started to Brandenburg to church Saturday night, but when we reached the hill this side of town heard a callopie, right then we had serious doubts as to the preacher getting a sermon down to that night. When we arrived at the church we were "almost persuaded" to go in, then the devil whispered in our ears, "No telling when you'll have another opportunity to take in a show, you can go to church all next week." So we drove on by the church and when we descended the hill we were tempted to hide our horns from the gathering storm and go back to church.
About that time Ed Alexander spoke up and said, "Jim, ain't you going to the show? Mighty good show I expect."

That settled it, we took 'er in. The first man we saw when we boarded the boat was Dick Nevitt. He had taken reserved seats for himself and family on the north side of the boat where they would be fanned by any breeze that chanced to play out over the water. We found seats down next to the stage and there we "sat and sat, and sat," and looked at that beautiful Switzerland scenery on the back ground, the footlights lending enchantment to the view until we imagined ourselves nomads in that far away clime and when the land peeled forth in soul-stirring pathos, "My Old Kentucky Home" there was a start as if suddenly awakened from a dream. Realizing our situation we shifted our position and settled down for another look at that same back ground. Dick Nevitt seemed to discover something fresh in the scenery and called Henry around and whispered something in his ear. Henry took one more lingering look at the background and retired. S. P. Woolfolk soon got enough of Switzerland. He with his family made several attempts to leave the boat, but every time they'd start out, one of the managers would come around and tell 'em to "please be seated, we'll have a change of scene directly." Patch, he'd settle down again, but that back-ground hadn't moved yet.

It was Switzerland when we went in and in Switzerland when we came out.
We'll all know Switzerland the next time we see it, and French will never stop at Brandenburg again when a big meeting is in progress.

GUSTON.

Miss Rena Smith is visiting relatives at Stephensport.

They say we are to have a new millinery establishment soon.

Our hustling merchants, Neff & Kagen report business on the increase.

Mrs. Maude Adkisson is visiting her grandfather, Henry Cain, near here.

Miss Helen Pollock is visiting the family of C. E. Bryant, of Brandenburg.

Henry Wrathe and wife, of Falls of Rough, are visiting relatives near this place.

Our operator enjoyed that box of cantaloopes hugely, but refused to name the gallant donor.

Miss Clara Adkisson, who has been sick for several days, is now able to resume her duties at the post office.

Several of our young people were the guests of Miss Eva Carrigan, Wednesday and all say they had a delightful time.

The young muscadins, who were the guests of Mrs. Pollock and son Wednesday evening, treated us to some music.

F. M. Osborne and R. B. LeGrand, who are employed by the L. St. L. & T. bridge Supt., were at home a short while Tuesday evening.

Prof. Shacklett, wife and children, accompanied by Miss Clarkson, who will attend the Professor's school, left Thursday for Hardinsburg.

L. F. Parrott, of Sumter, N. C. who has been visiting his father-in-law, Henry Cain, has returned to our little town, where he will spend a few weeks with Mrs. L. W. Adkisson's family.

Dr. Baxter had a nice garden destroyed by cattle jumping the fence and devouring every trace of vegetation. This is bad when vegetables are so scarce, but our genial doctor is making the best of it in a good natured manner.

September 1st the Last Day.

This date may not be the last day of all time, but it is positively the latest date that you can rent an Electropoise for two months for five dollars. All orders received on or before this time will receive prompt attention; all new instruments. Don't delay until the last day before making up your mind; take advantage of it right now. One of our patrons thus aptly expresses himself:
"The Electropoise has cured me of neuralgia, indigestion and a complication of other ailments which had so completely wrecked my nervous system that my life was a burden. I had been sick for twenty years. I realize that The Electropoise is a propelling force in nature's store house for suffering humanity. It is nature's remedy, whose healing effect is so silent, so sure and yet so mysterious that it is justly termed the wonder of the age."

The Governor's Canvass.

The Governor of Kentucky expects "Jack" Gross and "Ike" Quigley to elect him to the United States Senate.

He requires the Adjutant-General to reign that he may appoint "Senator" Gross in his place and strengthen him politically.

He appoints Ike Quigley to the Court of Appeals as his next political move.
Mr. Quigley is an agreeable gentleman with some legislative experience, but with no knowledge of the law. His training has in no sense fitted him for this position, and the appointment is a serious blunder.

The people will resent such a course.
The bench should not be dragged into politics. Its relation to the people are so intimate and important that it should never be used as an instrument for advancing the political ambition of any man.—Louisville Post.

Appointment Not Justified.

Gov. Brown opens his Senatorial campaign by appointing Mr. "Ike" Quigley to the Supreme Bench. Mr. Quigley has served the Governor very faithfully in the Legislature, but neither his professional attainments nor his public services justify this appointment.

It is purely personal and political and reconciles one anew to the elective judiciary.—Louisville Post.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Asia Hardin Accepts the Nomination for County Clerk on the People's Ticket.

But States That He Is Unable at The Present Time To Make a Canvass.

A STRONG LETTER.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 13, 1894.—TO MY FELLOW CITIZENS OF BRECKENRIDGE COUN-TY:—Having been nominated as a candidate of the People's Party for County Clerk of Breckenridge county by a mass convention of that party, held at the Court-house in Hardinsburg on Aug.
11, 1894, and being unable at this time to make a canvass, I take this method of presenting myself to the people of my native county, and asking them for their co-operation and support in bringing about my election to the office for which I have been nominated. I did not ask this nomination at the hands of the People's party, neither did I expect it, but that which is required of me at the hands of my party, that will I do, though I make a sacrifice in so doing. In accepting the nomination for County Clerk, I do so fully conscious of the fact that there are seemingly unsurmountable obstacles to be overcome, before success can reasonably be expected, but the time of revolution is upon us, and no one can tell with any degree of certainty what changes will take place in a few weeks or months to come.

I wish to say to the people of Breckenridge county that previous to the year 1880 I was proud of being known and recognized as a Democrat, but in the fall and winter of that year I received some political education in the hall of an F.
M. B. A. lodge that served to show me the error of my way, and since that time I have affiliated with the People's Party and to-day I stand squarely and emphatically on the platform adopted by the convention which made me a candidate, and which appeared in the columns of the News last week. I heartily and earnestly endorse every sentence contained in that platform, believing as I do that the enactment into law of principles contained therein are necessary to the interest and welfare of the great common people who are the bone and sinew of the nation who, under any circumstances, produce the entire wealth of the country and yet who, under existing laws and conditions, enjoy so few of the liberties, comforts and blessings that should and would be theirs were justice done.

I ask the people of this county to read our platform, earnestly and carefully, study the principles it advocates, then candidly and with an unprejudiced mind compare those principles with the principles and the policy that have been pursued by the several administrations covering the last 20 years and then align yourselves with that political party which, in your opinion, will best protect the interests and liberties of the laboring classes.

Study the political issues of the day that you may vote intelligently, and that you may at all times be able to "give a reason for the faith that is in you."

Should you decide in favor of the doctrines and principles as enunciated in the People's Party platform, then I ask you to rally to the support of that party by giving your influence and your suffrage to its candidates, of whom I am one.

Leaving these matters with you for your kindly consideration, and thanking you in advance for any favors which may be shown me, I beg to subscribe myself Obediently
ASIA M. HARDIN.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich.: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr.
King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife." While I was pastor of the Baptist church at Rives Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive time. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery, it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at A. R. Fisher's drug store.
Regular size 50c and $1.00.

Madeline Will Act.

Madeline Pollard will go on the stage.
She has made a forty week's engagement with Nelson Roberts, formerly of Daniel Frohman's companies. She will open in Chicago in October in a play with a strong emotional character, which will give her an opportunity to display whatever talent she may have, and that she has some she proved on the witness stand. She will draw well for a while.
The manager of the Lexington, Ky., opera-house has made Mr. Roberts a handsome offer for an early engagement.
Like Mrs. Langtry, Mrs. Potter, Sullivan and Corbett she will have crowded houses, not because she is expected to do fine acting, but because her notoriety will draw the curiosity seekers.—Ex.

COLUMBIA BICYCLES

CAN BE RELIED UPON.
When you start out on a Columbia, you come home on it.

The fact that it is impossible to ascertain the quality of a bicycle by a casual examination should be a sufficient reason for buying a wheel with a reputation.

There is no wheel that has been before the public so long, none that stands or ever stood so high, none so well guaranteed, none whose guarantee is so substantial and so liberally interpreted, none so safe to buy as a Columbia.

With Columbias listed at $125, few riders will be so unwise as to invest in lower grade bicycles.

Miss Mamie Daugherty will leave next Tuesday, August 21, to visit her brother, at Gettysburg College.
Mr. Charles Stith and little daughter, Nellie, of Irvington, were visiting Mrs.
Alice Brown, Saturday and Sunday.
Miss Edith Montgomery and sister, Miss Minnie, of Louisville, arrived Friday to visit Misses Mattie and Jennie Roberts, near Ekron.
Miss Mamie Daugherty returned from Muldraugh Thursday evening, where she had been visiting Miss Mollie Withers.
She reports a good time.
We are having one of the most distressing drowths here ever known by the oldest citizens. We have not had any rain since the middle of June. Crops are burning up, cisterns all dry and the people are being put to great inconvenience even to get water to drink.
E. A. Smith went to Louisville Friday to purchase a machine for drilling wells.
We hope now the citizens of Ekron will not stand in their own light, but will go ahead and have a good public well put down in the most convenient place for all the town.

ing for Mr. Blant Shacklett, was cutting

His wounds were dressed by Drs. Willett and Shacklett.

Not Always the Same.
It is considered very vulgar to say "port wine" or "sherry wine." In England no well bred person speaks of either as anything but "port" or "sherry." No well bred Frenchmen, on the other hand, would speak of wines except as "vin de champagne," "vin de grave," "vin de bordeaux." This is one of the many instances in which the good manners of one country are the vulgarity of another.

Died.

Aug. 7th, Mrs. Mary Emma Foushee in the 35th year of her life. She died in the full triumph of religious faith, praising the Lord to the last. She leaves a devoted husband and five children to mourn her loss. The deceased was a daughter of Rev. M. D. Pumphrey, near West View, was a devoted christian, and member of the Methodist church at Brandenburg, Ky. She was buried at the family grave-yard of her father-in-law, J. W. Foushee near her late home in Meade county.
